

Reflection Questions: Why do I enjoy judging my neighbors? How do I use my words to judge or slander others? How can I work to change this? What hidden attitudes might lead to my judgmental thoughts or words? Who can I ask to see if I have a judgmental, critical tongue?

How can I pray for others and our church this week?

Quotes to Ponder

Usurping God's judging authority by judging a person is really a blaspheming of God.

Peter Davids

If one is to love one's neighbors (Lev. 19:18), then one cannot simultaneously slander them (Lev. 19:16).

Craig L. Blomberg

Humbling ourselves and getting right with God must result in our getting right with other people. When we are right with other people, it will show in the way we talk about them. So we must not speak evil of one another and not judge our brother.

David Guzik

Humility is both a grace, and a vessel to receive grace... God singles out the humble soul to fill him to the brim with grace while the proud are sent empty away.

Thomas Brooks

If fellow believers are viewed as those chosen by God before the foundation of the world, for whom Christ died, who are loved and honored by God, and with whom we will spend eternity in heaven, we will seek to honor, love, and protect them. The first step in avoiding the sin of slander is not keeping one's lips sealed, but keeping one's thoughts about others right.

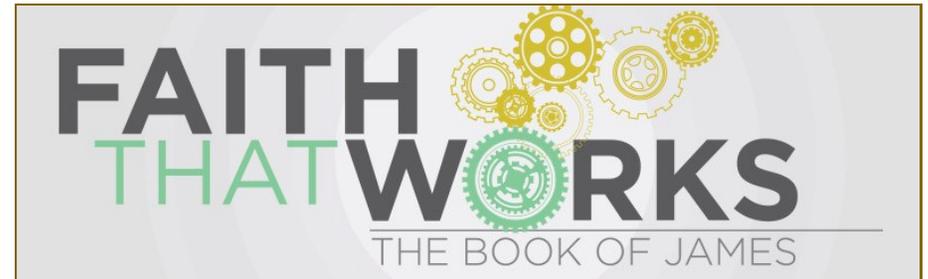

John MacArthur

A disposition to judge and condemn shows a conceited and arrogant disposition. It has the appearance of a person's setting himself up above others, as though he were fit to be the lord and judge of his fellow-servants, and he supposed they were to stand or fall according to his sentence.

Jonathan Edwards

Christians are to speak "the truth in love" (Eph. 4:15); they are not to speak evil in a spirit of rivalry and criticism.
