

Reflection Questions: Do I regularly declare my ways to the Lord? If not, why not? Are there any false ways in my life that need to be removed? Do I see my Christian life as a race to be won or do I regard it as a casual stroll where I follow Jesus apathetically and at a distance? What can I do to better run the way of God's commandments?

How can we pray for one another and our church this week?

Quotes to Ponder

Whenever the "I" is thoroughly exasperated, the child of God is in a position to be completely dependent ... turning unreservedly to God for spiritual revitalization.

George J. Zemek

We are not usually accustomed to turn to law for comfort, and therein lies our mistake. The truest comforters are the statutes, the precepts, the judgments, the testimonies, the commandments of God. To find these, and to obey them is to pursue a pathway which leads ever toward light and liberty.

G. Campbell Morgan

Men do not become holy by a careless wish. There must be study, consideration, deliberation, and earnest inquiry, or the way of truth will be missed. The commands of God must be set before us as the mark to aim at, the model to work by, the road to walk in. If we put God's judgments into the background we shall soon find ourselves going back from them.

Charles Spurgeon

Far better, and, we may add, far happier, is godly sorrow than worldly joy. In the midst of his misery, the Christian would not exchange his hope in the gospel—though often obscured by unbelief, and clouded by fear—for all "the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them."

The secret of Christian energy and success is a heart enlarged in the love of God.

Charles Bridges

If I have any possessions, health, credit, learning,—this is all the contentment I have of them—that I may have something to despise for Christ, who comprises in His own person all and everything that is most desirable.

Gregory Nazianzen
